

ABOUT THE PARTICIPANTS

DE'ANDREA WIGGINS, Ph.D., is the Interim Director of the Office of Diversity and Inclusion for the Wayne State University School of Medicine leading the efforts to broaden the availability and diversity of exceptional students who will become tomorrow's successful physicians by innovatively promoting the outreach, mentoring, and recruitment of persons who represent the diversity of our global community.

The Junior Reserve Officer Army Training Corps (JROTC) of the Frederick Douglass Academy for Young Men is called the Hurricane Battalion.

VALERIE M. PARISI, M.D., M.P.H., M.B.A., was named the 15th Dean of the Wayne State University School of Medicine in July 2010 and, because of her leadership in strengthening the School of Medicine's relationships with its clinical partners, she was included by Crain's Detroit Business' in the 2010 list of Women to Watch.

SANDRA YEE, Ph.D., has served as Dean of the Wayne State University Library System since May, 2001. The Library System includes six libraries (the Adamany Undergraduate Library, the Purdy/Kresge (graduate) Library, the Science and Engineering Library, the Arthur Neef Law Library, the Vera P. Shiffman Medical Library, and the Walter P. Reuther Library) and the School of Library and Information Science, an ALA accredited Library School.

TOM ROE, M.D., a native of Detroit and received his undergraduate degree from the University of Michigan after majoring in Zoology and History. He is a 1980 graduate of the School of Medicine and practiced Family Medicine in the Detroit area for 21 years prior to joining the faculty of the Wayne State University Department of Family Medicine and Public Health Sciences in 2001.

SCOTT JANKOWSKI is a senior at Wayne State University and will be graduating with a History Honors degree and a Psychology minor. He plans to further his education by attending graduate school for Library and Information Science.

For more information and photos about our participants please visit the Binding Wounds Pushing Boundaries website at www.lib.wayne.edu/bw

BINDING WOUNDS PUSHING BOUNDARIES

African Americans in Civil War Medicine

Many histories have been written about medical care during the American Civil War, but the participation and contributions of African Americans as nurses, surgeons and hospital workers have often been overlooked.

Binding Wounds, Pushing Boundaries: African Americans in Civil War Medicine looks at the men and women who served as surgeons and nurses and how their work as medical providers challenged the prescribed notions of race and gender.

Courtesy Library of Congress

Courtesy Toronto Public Library
Albert Collection

Courtesy East Carolina University

OPENING RECEPTION

Wed. March 21, 2012

4:30 – 6:00 PM

Wayne State University
Shiffman Medical Library
320 E. Canfield, Detroit MI
Atrium and Stapleton Room

MARK YOUR CALENDAR!

Binding Wounds Pushing Boundaries Community Educational Program Open to the Public

- ❖ WSU History and Nursing Faculty Panel on Civil War History, Medicine & African Americans
- ❖ Filmmaker Jeff O'Den Discusses Lest We Forget: Black Civil War Soldiers & Sailors

Saturday, April 14, 2012
1 – 3:30 PM

Margherio Family Conference Center
Mazurek Education Commons
Free Parking: Lot 75

Must RSVP by April 7
313.577.6666 or email shiffmanoutreach@wayne.edu

For more information
Please visit the Binding Wounds, Pushing Boundaries website
www.lib.wayne.edu/bw

This project has been funded in whole or in part by the National Library of Medicine, National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services under Contract No. HHS-N-276-2011-00005-C with the University of Illinois at Chicago, Library of the Health Sciences, the Wayne State University Library System for the Shiffman Medical Library Outreach and Community Engagement Program. This exhibition was developed and produced by the National Library of Medicine with research assistance from The Historical Society of Washington, D.C. and curated by Jill L. Newmark.

In addition to the above sponsors, the Opening Reception is funded in part by the Wayne State University School of Medicine Arts in the Atrium 2012 Program.

Photos & Videos may be taken during the event for archival purposes.
If you prefer not to be photographed please inform the digital technician.

TODAY'S PROGRAM

Moderator

De'Andrea Wiggins, Ph.D.

Interim Director, Office of Diversity & Inclusion, WSU School of Medicine

Presentation of Flags

Frederick Douglass Academy for Young Men Junior ROTC

Opening Remarks

Sandra Yee, Ph.D.

Dean of WSU Library System

&

Valerie M. Parisi, M.D.

M.P.H., M.B.A., Dean WSU School of Medicine

Introduction to Civil War Medicine

Thomas Roe, M.D.

Assistant Professor, WSU School of Medicine

Physically Disabled Veterans of the Civil War

Scott Jankowski

Honors History Student, Wayne State University

Unveiling of the Exhibit

Refreshments in the Stapleton Room

Special thanks to the Binding Wounds Planning Committee

Mark Bowden | Rachael Clark | Linda Draper

Cindy Krolikowski | Sandra Martin | Marsha Richmond

Tom Roe | Theresa Vettese | Deborah Walker | De'Andrea Wiggins

We are also grateful to the Shiffman Outreach Library Advisory Council

Jena Baker-Calloway | Linda Draper | LaVentra Ellis-Danquah

Mary Kordyban | Bonita Leavell | Sandra Martin

We especially appreciate the assistance we received from

Curtis Kratt | Mary Simmons | Ron Spalding