The diagram illustrates the design process with the following stages:

- Sketch: Ideas, possibilities to pursue.
- Wireframe: Structure, overall flow.
- Prototype: Structure, flow, and details (without final visual design).
- Design: Final branded and fully developed product.

The process moves from ideation to commitment, through concept validation, refinement, and finally usability. Iteration occurs throughout the process.